

Of Aces, Kings, Queens and Jacks

Reincarnation is here to stay it; ain't never, ever going away.
It's here to teach the righteous way for all of us to live someday
To see the Light through all the dark and sometimes lonely misery
To know the sun will shine one day if we just look more carefully
'Cause wisdom gained from this you'll see will lead us to a grander bliss.

Not through war and jealousy, nor torture, rape and cruelty
Atrocities all come from hate and fear and ignorance; but wait, if strangers we don't know are bad, aren't we just as bad as them?
For they see us as we see them with little or no clarity
If only we could love each other in this world as God intended,
We would come to know a world of love and peace and charity.

When you play your hand again, do it right this time and gain
The proper view of life and death, and how it plays out in the deck
Of Aces, Kings, Queens and Jacks, and all the cards, oh what the heck They're all important you should see, just as much as you and me.

You may not believe in all this, prefer instead the age-old myth:
"You live just once;" and all the rest is just nonsense, which I agree to some makes sense. "You live your life and then you die and bid yourself one last goodbye."

But when you think about the teachings of the one they called the Christ, He tried to say the very same thing about all this in His own way: That death is not in fact the end; His resurrection proved all this and Buddha too came back again and again and again.....

When you play your hand again, do it right this time and gain
The proper view of life and death, and how it plays out in the deck
Of Aces, Kings, Queens and Jacks, and all the cards, oh what the heck They're all important you should see, just as much as you and me.

So hang on for the ride I say, you ain't seen all you need to see,
Before you can declare that's it to everything you've done; maybe You've still got something deep inside that needs some time to heal and hide before you know what you have learned at other times in different places playing roles with different faces.

We affect the sacred journey of our soul's evolution; changing flows and variations, energy is Light's vibration. It forms according to free will; with our intention and imagination. Be aware that cause and effect is woven in the cosmic fabric making us the co-creators of our future's destination. Along the way we have the choice to expedite or slow ascension with each action that we take, bringing forth our soul's redemption.

When you play your hand again, do it right this time and gain
The proper view of life and death, and how it plays out in the deck
Of Aces, Kings, Queens and Jacks, and all the cards, oh what the heck They're all important you should see, just as much as you and me.

So never ever look away when someone else is trying to say the things I'm trying to say right now, for you will pay in the end they say, good or bad, on Judgment Day.
Your karmic debt is yours to play so you can find a better way

Until that day has finally come you live and die as just someone Who's never figured out the reasons mother nature changes seasons,
Or think that "evolution of the soul" is just another type of treason Committed by the faithless heathens, same ones whipped in days gone by, their lesions filled with burning lye.

When you play your hand again, do it right this time and gain
The proper view of life and death, and how it plays out in the deck
Of Aces, Kings, Queens and Jacks, and all the cards, oh what the heck They're all important you should see, just as much as you and me.

Think one more time before you judge as you may end up even worse;
With retribution looming largely like an endless bloody curse.
There's no telling what's in store in life and death's revolving door.

There is one thing I know for sure, that we can choose an ageless cure
And melt away our shameless blindness just by showing acts of kindness.

For that will open our connection with the source of all creation Giving us much greater insight into what we all can share:
A deeper wisdom, more compassion, even gifts that show we care
Unless you want that which has plagued the human race, I sure hope not:
The same old lessons learned before....but then again so soon forgot?

So when you play your hand again, please do it right this time and gain
The proper view of life and death, and how it plays out in the deck
Of Aces, Kings, Queens and Jacks, and all the cards, oh what the heck They're all important you should see, just as much as you and me.

For reincarnation is here to teach us how to live more properly
Not through war and jealousy, nor torture, rape and cruelty,
But through acts of love and kindness, leading one to liberty
To truly see heaven on earth where life is lived more graciously...
